LEGISLATURE MAY PROBE AQUEDUCT WAR!

SENATE PLANS POSTAL BILL VOTE SOON

Set Consideration of Salary Measure for Thursday On Calendar

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The Senate this afternoon passed a $159,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill. The principal item was an appropriation of $150,000,000 for the refund of taxes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—With the administration's support, the Senate this afternoon passed a "special order" providing for formal consideration of the omnibus postal salary bill next Thursday. This action, taken by a vote of 56 to 10, gave the postal measure, which provides $68,000,000 salary increases for postoffice employees and raises the revenue from higher postal rates, a preferred position over all other legislation.

State Loses Chance
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—California's chance to secure three new congressmen based on the 1920 census, went glimmering at this session of Congress when the House census committee after what was described as a bitter argument today turned down the Fairfield bill by the narrow margin of one vote.

Fight in Senate
A fight over the elevation of guns aboard American battleships was projected in the Senate this afternoon when the $257,316,000 naval appropriation bill came up for passage. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, attacked the bill because it failed to provide funds to elevate the guns.

Find Musician's Body In Gas-Filled Room

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16.—Dependent because she suffered a stroke of paralysis two years ago which rendered her incapable of continuing her career as a musician, Mrs. Eliza Stevenson Walling was believed today to have taken her life as her body was found in her gas-filled apartment here. Mrs. Walling is said to have suffered from illness of late, and it was thought she took her life as a means of ending her suffering. An inquest will be held later, Coroner Kelly said.

17 'Sheiks' Sought In Girl Murderer's Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Determined to put a halt to the jazz-crazed night life that engulfed 16-year-old Dorothy Ellingson and led her to murder her own mother last Tuesday, police ordered a general roundup of seventeen "sheiks," alleged members of the crowd Dorothy ran around with, and they will in all probability be charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, according to Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson.

GERMANS SEE MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16.—Officers and cadets of the German school ship Berlin were the guests of the Mexican capital today. They were met on their arrival by General Almada of the Mexico City garrison.

EXPECT DECISION ON ROCKNE SOON

Notre Dame Authorities to Consider His Release From Contract

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—Elmer Henderson, deposed University of Southern California football coach, today urged Knute Rockne of Notre Dame to take his post here. Speaking over long distance telephone from South Bend, Ind., Rockne replied the question of his coming here would be placed before Notre Dame authorities at once and a definite decision was expected tonight.

U. S. Not Committed In Dawes Pact Enforcement

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The United States is not committed in any way to participation in the enforcement of the Dawes annuities in the event Germany should default, it was learned in official quarters here today.

The American delegates in Paris, Ambassadors Herrick and Kellogg and Colonel James A. Logan—assured the Washington administration that the Paris agreement would not commit the United States to such participation, it was said. The Dawes report makes provision for arbitration, it was pointed out, and, in addition, the United States could take independent action in the event of a default by Germany. It was emphasized too that the Paris agreement does not affect in any way the status of the war debts situation.

Agreement On Debt Payment Drawing Fire

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A discordant rumbling was going around under cover in the Senate today over the agreement signed at Paris by Secretary of State-Designate Kellogg whereby the United States becomes an official participant in the operation of the Dawes plan to collect reparations from Germany. The rumbling may break into the open shortly with an inquiry addressed to the White House for information as to whether, by signing this agreement, the American government becomes "legally and morally bound" to join with the other signers in punitive measures against Germany should she fall down in the enormous annual payments.

PLAN INSPECTION OF MANY TRACTS

Regents and Committee to Look Over Sites for University Soon

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—Members of the committee of seventeen and regents of the University of California, southern branch, will visit some of the sites offered for the institution, including the tract at Burbank, which is looked upon with favor. It has been decided by the committee members following a meeting held yesterday afternoon when eighteen cities tendered locations. Henry V. O'Melveny presided as chairman of the meeting, the committee members acting only in an advisory capacity. After a close investigation of each of the sites offered, the committee will recommend five or six of them on February 10 to the University Board of Regents, as the most likely locations, leaving it to the board to make the actual selection, O'Melveny announced.

URGES INCREASE IN GASOLINE TAX

County Supervisors Suggest Present Levy Be Raised To Three Cents

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Addition of one cent to the present 2-cent tax on gasoline used by motor vehicles was recommended today at the convention of the County Supervisors' association of California, with a few dissenting votes. Hot discussion concerning the wording of the resolution continued for two hours. A majority report of the resolution committee advised increase of the tax by 1 cent with the proviso that it be spent on trunk highways. A minority report, sponsored entirely by Los Angeles supervisors, provided for the same increase with the qualification that the money be expended in immediate construction of the two main trunk lines to the Oregon and Mexican borders and the four lateral lines connecting California with Nevada.

FINANCIAL REPORT

PARIS, Jan. 16.—France's financial statement for 1925 shows a surplus of 34,000,000 paper francs. L'Information today stated the report of Budget Auditor Violette to the chamber showed.

CAPITAL CITY FILLED WITH OFFICIALS

Supervisors, C. C. Heads, Boxing Board, Governor Among Those Present

By GIL A. COWAN
By Southland News Service.
Special to The Evening News.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Sacramento today is the center of practically all governmental agencies of the state and county with the Legislature in session, the governor back at the capitol, the State Supervisors' association in session, and innumerable chambers of commerce secretaries in the city conferring on highways and what not. The State Athletic commission also is holding forth.

Highways and gasoline tax are the two big topics of discussion before the supervisors who have Henry W. Wright of the Fourth district, in which Glendale is represented, Prescott V. Cogswell, and J. H. Bean of the Los Angeles board, among those present. Mr. Cogswell was honored with chairmanship of the legislative committee which is today working out a program to be presented the solons in "The Cave of the Winds." The Legislature yesterday afternoon listened to the Bay counties plan for a bridge across Carquinez straits, a matter of much importance to the cities of Oakland and San Francisco, as well as the back country. Of course, the state will be asked to contribute and no doubt the Legislature will grant an appropriation for anything which develops any part of California impresses the southern delegation, particularly, as meritons.

Propose New Road
Assemblyman Foster of Fowler is introducing the Westside Highway association's bill this week which would provide for the state taking over the present paved road from Tracy to Fresno, surveying a new road from Mendota in Fresno county to Taft in Kern county and thence south to a junction with one of four highways leading into Los Angeles from the vicinity of Fillmore in Ventura county. With view of producing revenue from the flood control dams are being built under $27,000,000 bond issue by Los Angeles county, amendment to the flood control act has been sought in a Senate bill providing for the acquiring title to and impounding waters of dammed area and selling supply for domestic use and irrigation purposes. J. H. O'Connor, deputy county counsel, prepared the measure.

U. S. Bureau Suggested To Urge Civil Aviation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Creation of a bureau of aeronautics in the department of commerce, to promote civil aviation and to enforce regulations for commercial aviation, is provided by a bill reported favorably today from the House interstate and foreign commerce commission. The marking of air routes is authorized and the federal licensing of pilots and inspection of aircraft is required.

Gallows Claims Life In Murder of L. A. Broker

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Accepting his fate in a stoic manner, John Gerega, the youngest of three men condemned to die for the murder a year ago of Charles Chapman, Los Angeles broker, today died on the gallows at Folsom prison for a crime in which he claimed to have played the part of an unwilling onlooker.

JACK DEMPSEY TO RETIRE IN JUNE

Heavyweight Champion Will Give Up His Title for Wedding Ring

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—Forecasting his permanent retirement from the ring, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, announced exclusively today through International News Service that he will be married in June. "I expect to marry Miss Estelle Taylor in June or a few weeks later, possibly," Dempsey said. "Yes, we are engaged," said the heavyweight champion, "and the wedding will take place in June or a little later without fail."

Will Quit Ring
That Dempsey will quit the ring at the same time he takes up married life was indicated in his exclusive statement. He said: "I would like to take a crack at Gibbons or some other contender for my title this year, but I don't know about that. We will see what happens in the next few weeks. Then if there are no fights coming in—well, what can a fellow do?"

Dempsey's engagement to Miss Taylor, a motion picture actress, had been rumored for many weeks, but today was the first time the champion was willing to let the foregoing announcement be published.

Work on Pictures
The champion said that he and Miss Taylor had planned to be married immediately, but it was thought best by them to postpone the wedding in order to allow Miss Taylor to finish a number of pictures on which she is now engaged. "Everyone may be surprised by my announcement today," continued Dempsey. "But I have never denied right out that we were engaged and all of my close friends knew for some time that we were to be married."

Teddy Hayes, the champion's secretary, said: "Unless something unexpected turns up in the way of a match, it is likely Jack will never fight again."

GIRL KILLER IS STILL 'LIFE OF PARTY'

Woman to Prosecute Miss Who Confesses to Murdering Mother

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—A woman will prosecute Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old "jazz-mania" victim, for the murder of her mother, Mrs. Annie Ellingson.

District Attorney Matthew Brady today selected Mrs. Theresa Merkle, his only woman assistant, to take charge of the prosecution. She will be tried in superior court on a capital charge, Judge Frank Murasky, head of the juvenile court department, today informed police that he waived jurisdiction and believed the girl should be tried for murder in superior court.

Simultaneously, it became known that Captain of Detectives Mathewson had ruled that the case was "not to become another Loeb-Leopold affair." Free lance alienists and psychologists were barred from seeing the girl.

Federal Investigation
A sweeping federal probe of the booze parties that Dorothy Ellingson attended was a development today in California's most unusual murder case.

Federal prohibition authorities requested from the police information they obtained in their round up of Dorothy's associates as the basis of a general probe of the "jazz land" which the girl lived in.

'Life of Party'
Still the "life of the party," Dorothy Ellingson continued today to set the same "big kick" out of life that characterized her jazz path to a prison cell.

Twelve hours of questioning and posing found her ready to continue when police orders shut off further interviews. Only when her father and brother visited her in her cell—both sternly accusing her—did her sangfroid break.

Then she for a moment forgot

Jail Sentences Loom For Volstead Violators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Federal prohibition is five years old today. Congress is preparing a birthday gift to commemorate the event in the shape of an amendment to the Volstead law, making it mandatory on judges to impose jail sentences as well as fines on those who are convicted of violating it.

The amendment was provided by the House judiciary committee and will soon be up for passage. The natal day of national prohibition would have passed unnoticed in the capital had it not been for the usual statements concerning its effects, published by its friends and its enemies. Wayne B. Wheeler, generalissimo of the anti-saloon league, said prohibition is a great success and predicted that in another five years people will think it strange that they ever patronized bootleggers. Captain W. H. Stayton, president of the association, against the prohibition amendment, said the Volstead law was a flat failure and predicted that it won't be long before national sentiment compels a modification of the law. As between these two opposing forces, bootleggers continued to ply their usual trade in the capital today and reported "business as usual."

Republican Club Split Over Attempt to Enter Into Municipal Politics

By a vote of 20 to 8, a group, representing less than 15 per cent of the membership, last night plunged the Glendale Republican club into the midst of the forthcoming municipal political wrangle by passing resolutions that call upon the club to endorse political candidates and otherwise actively participate in Glendale municipal elections.

The resolution carried in the face of determined opposition maintained by a number of loyal Republicans who argued against the move on the grounds that it is unwise and directly contrary to the state primary law and the time-honored principles of Republican and state organizations.

Small Minority Rules
Only a small minority votes in the club was reflected in the decision to drag the organization into alleged non-partisan municipal politics. The twenty, most of them hand picked, out and out advocates of the movement, form less than 15 per cent of the club's membership of 150. The fact that only twenty-eight members attended seems to indicate that the plan to enter municipal politics has already wrecked the club.

A well defined and tautly drawn line today appeared between the two elements in the Republican ranks. The closing remarks of A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, that he would remain a part of the club and stay in sympathy with it when matters of a national or state wide nature were under discussion, but needs must part with it in its attempt to dominate local politics, were reiterated by many as their stand in the controversy.

Attack On Charter

Those casting their votes against the club's action in non-partisan politics were Mr. Cowan, Dr. G. Kaemmerling, J. C. Sherer, G. H. Wende, Dr. Jessie E. Russell, Eva Daniels, H. D. Clark, and Dr. T. R. Crosswell.

When Dr. Kaemmerling, prior to the debate on the measure asked how he, an employee of the city, could take part in municipal politics, when the city charter specifically prohibits such participation, (Turn to page 5, col. 4)

Arizona State Prison Warden to Face Trial

FLORENCE, Ariz., Jan. 16.—Warden Robert B. Sims of the Arizona state prison will go on trial at the July term of district court on charges of mutilating the bodies of two executed murderers. Justice F. W. Stillman, before whom the preliminary hearing of the warden was conducted, held Sims to answer to the higher court on the charges, which were originally made by Mrs. E. C. Howard, wife of an inmate of the state prison.

Woman Killed, Husband Hurt When Hit by Car

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16.—Mrs. B. R. Waid is dead and her husband is in a local hospital suffering from injuries which may prove fatal, after being struck down last night by an automobile said by police to have been driven by D. E. Lewis. The Waid came here about two years ago from Muskogee, Okla.

FEAR STUDENT CLASH

NAPLES, Jan. 16.—The university here remained closed today. Police action was necessary prior to closing, on account of friction between Fascist and anti-Fascist students.

INQUIRY INTO LOS ANGELES AND INYO DISPUTE

Resolution Is Presented By Southern Senator Asking for Action

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—A legislative investigation of the Owens valley water controversy, which has been raging between Inyo and Los Angeles counties for many years, is called for in a resolution presented today by Senator Ralph Swing of San Bernardino county.

The resolution calls for the naming of two senators by Lieutenant-Governor C. C. Young and two assemblymen by Speaker Frank Merriam to form the investigating commission.

A resolution fixing January 24 as the date for adjournment of the "first half" of the present Legislature was adopted today by both Senate and Assembly. The resolution also calls for the reconvening of the Legislature on February 24.

To Cover Losses
The Assembly passed an emergency appropriation of $16,272, to make up a deficiency in the industrial rehabilitation fund caused by the vetoing of a similar bill by Governor Richardson.

Among the bills introduced today was one by Assemblyman Wemple, of Litchfield, for the board of control, making an appropriation of $2,300,000 to propitiate the state's stockmen, due to the hoof-and-mouth disease. Assemblyman Corra Woodbridge, of Roseville, introduced an amendment to the women's eight-hour law to forbid employers giving women factory workers "home work," in addition to eight hours' factory work.

Assemblyman West of Sacramento presented a bill to require all motor stages and commercial motor vehicles to carry engine governors to limit their speed to the limit established by the state motor vehicle act.

HOOVER DECLINES CABINET CHANGE

35 SUFFER FROM MONOXIDE GAS POISON

CROFTON, Neb., Jan. 16.—Thirty-five persons were suffering from monoxide gas poisoning here today, following the near asphyxiation last night of a theatre audience in the local moving picture show. Investigation today disclosed the fact that children had stuffed rags into the exhaust pipe of the theatre gasoline engine and the deadly fumes coming back into the theatre threw the audience into panic. The crowd rushed for the exits and more than thirty children and five adults dropped unconscious in the jam. No deaths occurred, attending physicians reported, but many are in a serious condition.

RENDERS REPORT ON CHEST DRIVE

Secretary Burton McGinnis
Tells Funds Collected
And Given Out

Statistics concerning the 1924 Glendale Community Chest drive, conducted during December, were issued today by Burton McGinnis, secretary of the chest. To date $11,315.84 has been turned over to the chest in the form of subscriptions and first payments on subscriptions. The bulk of this amount has in turn been disbursed among the fifteen organizations which are beneficiaries in this city. Each of the fifteen has been given an amount equal to 15 per cent of their total allotment. Distribution of the remaining funds will be made as they become available or as near to quarterly as possible.

With $30,534.59 pledged, 65 per cent of the amount sought in the drive, the original allotments made to each organization will necessarily have to be cut approximately one-third, according to the report of Mr. McGinnis. This will mean that a rebudgeting of the finances of each will be necessitated. Three thousand and eighteen persons and organizations signed pledge cards during the drive.

The report shows that $19,218.75 which has been pledged remains to be paid into the chest. Much of this amount is on pledges spread out in payments over a long period of months. An urgent appeal to all those who are delinquent in their pledge payments and to any who will be able to make full payment at this time to come to the assistance of the chest. An audit of accounts for the 1924 drive is being arranged and will be published in The Glendale Evening News when completed.

The fifteen organizations receiving funds through the Community Chest are: American Legion Auxiliary, American Red Cross, American War Mothers, Boy Scouts, Catholic Charities, Children's Hospital Auxiliary, Christian Circle club, Community Service, California Junior Republic, Girl Scouts, Glendale Welfare Council, Protestant Welfare Association, Salvation Army, Women's Christian Temperance Union and Young Men's Christian Association.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Jan. 16.—Professor Charles F. Lindsley of Occidental college, head of the department of public speaking at that institution, is the new president of the local Kiwanis club. Other officers elected to serve during 1925 are:

First vice-president, Emil Swanson; second vice-president, H. M. La Follette; district trustee, A. S. Wilson; trustees, Dr. C. M. Hensley, Dr. H. B. Crawford; H. Manlove, Dr. Middlemass, Walter E. Mann, C. H. Goodale, H. L. Pickett; secretary, Dr. H. B. Crawford; treasurer, C. L. Suits; sergeant-at-arms, Prof. O. Hardy. An entirely new list of committee-men was named.

Andrew Wilson is the retiring president. He was presented with a radio set by his fellow members, on relinquishing the gavel to Professor Lindsley.

Situated on one of the most beautiful view lots in the community stands the new home of Fritz Karge. It is located on El Carpa drive and has just been completed at a cost of $20,000. Mr. Karge's home is of old English architecture, the low, rambling type of house, with large open fireplace and homey rooms.

Dr. Josephine Platt of Pasadena, in charge of the free baby clinic held every Tuesday morning at the Women's Twentieth Century club, is known as a children's specialist and many local mothers are taking advantage of this opportunity for expert clinical advice.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morrow of 5120 La Roda gave a delightful party Tuesday night in honor of their daughter, Miss Eva's 15th birthday. Games were enjoyed, after which refreshments were served.

T. M. Bayliss of 5129 Elverano avenue is building a bungalow on the front of his lot, for himself and wife to occupy.

P-T-A.

Mothers of Glendale High school pupils are going to attend school next Wednesday, when members of the Parent-Teacher association will be entertained by the Girls' league at the Broadway high school. According to Mrs. W. R. Wichert, P-T-A. president, the mothers may attend as early as they choose and have luncheon in the teachers' cafeteria. At 12:15 o'clock members of the Girls' league will charge of the visitors, conducting them to a student body meeting in the auditorium, and later on a tour of the school.

At 2:30 o'clock the regular business session of the P-T-A. will be held, and at 3 o'clock there will be an address by Miss Helen Goodspeed, prominent in university extension work. Miss Goodspeed was formerly state superintendent of home economics in Wisconsin, and assistant superintendent of home economics in the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell university. She is to conduct a roundtable discussion on the subject, "Back to the Home, or How We Can Make Our Homes Real Centers of Family Life."

Musical and dramatic numbers on the program will be arranged by the Girls' league. Following the program the league members will serve tea from 4 to 4:30 o'clock in the home economics department.

Mrs. George Emerson of 129 West Eulalia street, is to be hostess Wednesday afternoon, January 21, from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, at a benefit tea for the Cerritos Parent-Teacher association. There will be a program of entertainment and tables arranged for cards. Refreshments will be served late in the afternoon. All patrons and friends of the school are invited to attend.

Mrs. Hugh Bradford, president of the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association, and Mrs. Meers, one of the founders and first vice-president of the national organization, were honored guests and speakers yesterday at the First District, P-T-A. board meeting in Los Angeles. Mrs. Wilson, state chairman of founders' day, was also present. Glendale was represented by a large delegation and both Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. Meers complimented the Glendale federation on its accomplishments. Announcement was made of the district convention, April 15 and 17, when election will take place. The place of the convention has not yet been selected. The state convention will begin May 11 in Fresno. Mrs. Bradford urged all executives to secure literature from the state in order to be better informed on state affairs. Mrs. F. B. Martin, district chairman of child labor and legislation, spoke in gratification of the recent ratification by California legislators of the child labor amendment. The district conference will be held next Thursday in Alhambra. An added feature of the program will be a talk on better films by Grace Fry, chairman of better films for the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. W. A. Hartman of 240 North Belmont street is to be hostess Monday afternoon at a benefit bridge and five-hundred party for the Wilson Parent-Teacher association. Games will begin at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Roe and Mrs. Marks will assist the hostess.

George H. Thomas, assistant manager of Brand boulevard branch of Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, was the speaker at the meeting of the Broadway Parent-Teacher association at the school yesterday, giving an interesting talk on "Thrift." Mrs. H. C. Saulsbury, chairman of thrift, gave a talk on the thrift of the Broadway school, reporting that the sum of $691.50 had been saved by the children of the school since January 2, 1923. Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, spoke on the growth of Glendale schools, and also told of the school bond election to be held on February 10. Mrs. A. G. Evans, president, presided at the meeting, which was opened with the flag salute, led by Mrs. Williams, patriotic instructor. Carol Killinger, gave a fairly dance in costume.

A meeting of the executive board was held at 1 o'clock, when members decided to give a luncheon in honor of the outgoing members of the sixth grade. The luncheon will be held during the noon hour on Thursday, January 29, at the school. The committee in charge is Mrs. Lindsley, Mrs. Killinger, Mrs. Lance, Mrs. F. G. Gardner. The room mothers will hold a meeting Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Lindsley at 234 Harvey drive, for the purpose of discussing plans for future social meetings. Tea and wafers were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Acton, courtesy chairman.

First-hand information on the crowded conditions in Glendale city schools, and need for passing the $2,400,000 bond issues February 10, was gained yesterday afternoon by members of Columbus Parent-Teacher association, who heard John T. Cate, business manager of Glendale city schools. Mr. Cate told actual instances of the overcrowded condition of the local schools, and stated that a serious situation would become more and more acute if the bonds were not passed.

Another speaker at the meeting was Harry Thomas, vice-president of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank of Los Angeles, introduced by George E. Thomas, assistant manager of the Brand boulevard branch of the bank. Mr. Thomas talked on thrift, emphasizing the need of training children to be thrifty. Mrs. C. H. Bird, president, directed the meeting. Mrs. Arthur Franklin, president of Wilson Parent-Teacher association, invited the mothers whose children are to go on to Wilson in mid-term to affiliate with the Wilson Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Nanno Woods, who is to present a benefit January 29, at Glendale Intermediate, for Columbus Parent-Teacher association, spoke. Vocal solos and a reading were given by Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson.

Dr. Gerhard Kaemmerling, city health officer, is to speak next Tuesday at the meeting of Cerritos Parent-Teacher association, at 2 o'clock, at the school. Vocal selections will be given by Mrs. Jack Collins and Miss Brown. Playground nurses will be provided for small children, so mothers can attend the meeting.

SALVATION ARMY OPENS TOMORROW

Glendale Outpost Will Be Launched With Special
Street Service

The Glendale outpost of the Salvation Army will open tomorrow night at 124 West Wilshire avenue, under the direction of No. 2 corps, it is announced by Adjutant J. George Barry, commanding officer of this corps. The meeting will be preceded by a half-hour street service, with music by a band of thirty-five pieces, led by Bandmaster Harold Gooding. This is the popular Salvation Army band frequently heard over KJIS, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A Sabbath school class will open, Adjutant Barry states. This class will be conducted at the same hour each Sunday afternoon, at the Wilson avenue headquarters, and will gather many young people together for sacred teaching, it is predicted.

This is the first time an official Salvation Army outpost has been operated in Glendale, according to Adjutant Barry, who declares that the comparative success of the recent Community Chest effort here has made it possible.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Luncheon Honoree

Beautiful in all appointments was the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. W. A. Braden, at her home, 4146 Euclalyptus avenue, Los Angeles, in honor of her sister, Miss Evangeline Quackenbush, who is soon to become the bride of Arthur Troxel. The luncheon table was centered with a large white cake, representing an altar with a miniature bridal party approaching through the greenery. A sparkling can with many useful articles for the kitchen hung suspended over the place where the bride to be was seated. From this white ribbons showered to a large clothes basket concealed beneath the table. The basket was filled with useful articles for the kitchen. Cards bearing the names of the guests were unique, each carrying a half shell of a walnut, filled with nuts. Following the luncheon games were played and a social time enjoyed. The guests were Mesdames O. F. Palmer, N. H. Palmer, A. V. Tarrington, Stanley Walker, Nadine Walters, Clarence McMillan, Marian Haddick, Wm. Terrill, T. B. Miller and daughter Virginia, Ruth Sunkes and son Jack, J. A. Quackenbush, Misses Ida Skinner, Ruth Palmer and the honoree, Miss Evangeline Quackenbush. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. A. Quackenbush of 1119 East Colorado.

Informal Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Phillips of 320 West Dryden street were hosts last night at an enjoyable progressive five hundred card party, entertaining a group of friends. The rooms of the Phillips were decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums and bachelor buttons. Three tables were in play during the evening and when scores were added Miss Helen Poole received the first prize; George Cooper received second prize and Miss Claire Hanson was awarded the consolations. A midnight supper was served on individual hand-painted Chinese trays, the hostess being assisted in serving by Mrs. Holden. Guests were: Mrs. Peter Hanson and daughter, Miss Claire, Mrs. Virginia Freeman, Mrs. Roberta T. Young, Miss Helen Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDade, George Cooper, Mrs. Holden, Thomas Dunn and Mrs. Leah Graham.

Farewell Honor

Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of Warrenton, Oregon, who have been visiting relatives in Glendale for several weeks, were given a farewell party Wednesday night by Mrs. W. C. Richardson street. Musical selections were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt with the violin and piano, and community singing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served later in the evening. Attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of Warrenton, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morgan, of Los Angeles; Mrs. L. L. Sharp, of Allensburg, Washington; Miss Mae McKinnon of Portland, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, Arthur Johnston, of Nogales, Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Richardson.

Card Club Meets

Mrs. Flora Hollenbeck of 1129 Western avenue was hostess Thursday to the Glendale Five Hundred club. A large French bouquet decorated the table, where an elaborate dinner was served at 1 o'clock. Five hundred was played, with Mrs. Mary Adren to be thrifty. Mrs. C. H. Bird, president, directed the meeting. Mrs. Arthur Franklin, president of Wilson Parent-Teacher association, invited the mothers whose children are to go on to Wilson in mid-term to affiliate with the Wilson Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Nanno Woods, who is to present a benefit January 29, at Glendale Intermediate, for Columbus Parent-Teacher association, spoke. Vocal solos and a reading were given by Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson.

Card Club Meets

Mrs. Anna Simpson of Tujunga was a business visitor in Glendale Thursday.

William Zander of 411 Arden avenue has moved his family to 716 East Palmer avenue. Mr. Zander is an experienced cement worker.

Mrs. Mabel Wilson left Thursday for her home in San Francisco after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Stella Goodman, 645 North Central avenue.

GLENDALE GIVEN BOOST BY EDITOR

Writer in Nebraska State
Journal Also Mentions
The Evening News

Contrary to the many rumors from the mid-west and east about anti-California propaganda spread locally and by news is a page from the edition of the Nebraska State Journal, Lincoln, Nebraska, for Sunday, December 28, containing an enthusiastic booster story about Glendale, from the pen of Dr. Laura J. Brown of 607 North Geneva street. The page from the Journal was sent to The Glendale Evening News by J. C. Seacrest, publisher.

In her story Dr. Brown gives a concise and comprehensive sketch of the location and attractions of the "Fastest Growing City in America." Among the former Nebraskans she mentions as prominent in Glendale affairs are Miss Helen Torbett, W. S. Perrin, C. C. Cooper and R. F. Kitterman. She states that in the height of the tourist season she had thirteen different Lincoln, Nebraska, people call at her office.

The Glendale Evening News is mentioned by Dr. Brown, whose father, Henry Clay Brown, age 93, is a member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club. In a special letter to The Glendale Evening News, Mr. Seacrest asks for information concerning this organization.

New Osteopath Makes Glendale Future Home

Dr. A. A. Lippincott, formerly of Glenwood Springs, Colorado, has been in Southern California for some time looking over the various towns and has chosen Glendale for his future home, and will henceforth be associated with Dr. Orey at 106 East Wilson.

Dr. Lippincott is a graduate of the Kirksville college of Osteopathy in Missouri and has practiced 12 years. He takes the place left vacant by Dr. Lyons' return to Glendale valley and is the fourth member of the treating staff in the offices of Dr. Orey, who has been in England five years and has offices occupying the entire second floor over the Federal bank building, employing four doctors and several attendants.

Attorney Bomb Victim Improves at Hospital

An operation for plastic surgery and skin grafting, performed yesterday on Ernest Torchia by Dr. H. R. Boyer, at the Glendale hospital, has resulted successfully, the hospital reported today. Mr. Torchia has been confined to the Glendale hospital since December 25, 1924, when a bomb mailed to him in the guise of a Christmas package, exploded in his home at 1329 Campbell street, Casa Verdugo, so seriously injuring the attorney that for days his life was in jeopardy. The operation performed was to supply skin to various parts of Mr. Torchia's body, in order to induce his wounds to heal.

Hadsell winning first prize. The second prize was won by Mrs. Sadie Bronnenberg and third by Mrs. Nona Springer. Members present were Mesdames Frances Shadbolt, Winnie Hartley, Marjorie Pease, Nona Springer, Jones, Evelyn Hall, Adelaide Meyers, Mary Hadsell, Clara Fry, Fanny Groutage, Sadie Bronnenberg, and the hostess, Miss May Lyons was a special guest.

Foothill Club

Members of the Foothill club were entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. B. Nelson at 320 North Brand boulevard. The living and dining rooms of the Nelson home were attractively decorated with bouquets of roses and ferns. A business session was held during which time plans for the year were discussed. Mrs. John W. Cotton entertained with several vocal selections and later delicious refreshments were served.

Jolly Workers

The Jolly Workers' club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. T. Winchell, 6000 Barton avenue, Hollywood. Luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock. The afternoon was spent in sewing. Attending the meeting were: Mrs. Louis Gratias, Mrs. R. C. Francis, Mrs. H. Tweet, Miss Olive Ambrose of Long Beach, and Mrs. Mary Ellsworth of Butte, Montana. The club will meet with Mrs. Gratias at 912 Osceola avenue next Wednesday.

Birthday Party

Miss Evelyn Murphy of 1428 South San Fernando road entertained a number of high school friends very pleasantly Wednesday night in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Games were played and a beautiful birthday cake was served with other dainty refreshments. Those present were Dorothy Brown, Edna Fisher, Betty Biggs, Dorothy Beales, Lois Deikman and the hostess.

Mrs. Anna Simpson of Tujunga was a business visitor in Glendale Thursday.

William Zander of 411 Arden avenue has moved his family to 716 East Palmer avenue. Mr. Zander is an experienced cement worker.

Mrs. Mabel Wilson left Thursday for her home in San Francisco after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Stella Goodman, 645 North Central avenue.

OLAF HYTTEN HIT IN 'HOLE IN WALL'

Dobinson Players Portraying
'Fox' Complimented for His Performance

Perhaps the most striking character in the cast in "The Hole in the Wall," now being presented at the Playhouse by the Dobinson Players, at Central avenue and Lexington drive, is that of the "Fox," tellingly played by Olaf Hytten.

The patrons of the Playhouse have learned to expect finished and moving performances from this English actor. The actor is known by his voice and the way he delivers the English language. The mind, the feelings, the spiritual quality is always unmistakably evident in speech, and fortunate indeed is that actor who early in his career has this ability thoroughly grounded.

The actor makes his living by interpreting the thoughts of the writer to his public; they, in turn, pay the management of the theatre for their entertainment. The actor, like the statesman and the minister, but vastly more so, can sway and control his thousands.

'Love Laughs' Next
The "Fox" in "The Hole in the Wall" is not an enviable character, but, such as he is, Olaf Hytten portrays him with appreciation.

KIWANIS INSTALL OFFICERS TONIGHT

Oakmont Club to Be Scene Of Ceremonies With Fitting Program

Newly elected officers of the Glendale Kiwanis club will be formally installed tonight at Oakmont Country club, following a dinner which will start at 7 o'clock. On account of the gathering tonight, the regular Friday noon luncheon meeting was not held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse today.

Officers who will be installed are: Frank L. Fox, president; Rev. Clifford A. Cole, vice-president; Albert W. Perry, vice-president; D. H. Smith, treasurer; and Burton McGinnis, secretary. The directors of the club for 1925 are: R. M. Brown, Clifford A. Cole, A. L. Ferguson, Frank L. Fox, David L. Gregg, N. C. Hayhurst, W. G. Lauderdale, Harry G. MacBain, Albert W. Perry, D. H. Smith, Fred B. Walton and Bert P. Woodard.

Officers during 1924 were: A. L. Baird, president; Dr. T. C. Young, first vice-president; A. W. Perry, second vice-president; Herman Nelson, treasurer, and D. H. Webb, secretary.

Tonight's program is in charge of Dr. Young. It has been announced that there will be no business transacted at the meeting, but a number of prizes will be awarded. A program full of entertainment has been arranged.

ATWATER EXPECTS LARGE ATTENDANCE

Important Questions Regarding Future Development of District Will Be Discussed Next Monday Night

A record attendance is expected at the meeting of the Atwater Community Improvement association Monday night, when half a dozen important questions bearing on the future development of the Atwater district are to be brought up.

President Arthur M. Gilman of the improvement body will preside at the meeting which will be held at the Atwater Park Baptist church, Perlitia avenue and Tyburn street, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

Further action to gain a reduction in street car fare between Atwater and Los Angeles will be taken. A committee headed by James Ord will report on a conference with the Los Angeles library board in regard to establishment of a branch in the Atwater district. Street paving projects will be discussed and other business attended to.

Alfred J. Barnes, member of the Los Angeles Planning commission, will tell the members of plans for bridges across the Los Angeles river which will be worked out at a joint session of improvement clubs, Chambers of Commerce, the County Board of Supervisors and members of the Los Angeles City Council, at the Hollywood Athletic club next Wednesday night.

Hand bills announcing the meeting will be distributed in an effort to get out a large attendance. There will be a musical program preceding the regular business session.

Rush Street Paving

Completion of street paving on Boyce, Brunswick, Dover and Glenhurst avenues in the Atwater district will be rushed. Work on laying sidewalks and installing curbs is progressing at present and street paving will be commenced shortly. Paving of other streets in the district will be undertaken soon, according to plans of the City Council. Petitions on a number of street improvements are now being circulated.

Benefit Card Party

Residents of the Atwater district attended a benefit card party given last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Gardner at 3460 Perlitia avenue, in the Atwater district. Tables were arranged for five-hundred and nine tables were in play during the evening. Winners in the game were awarded prizes and later in the evening refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by the hostess. The affair was given as a benefit for the Atwater Parent-Teacher association and a neat sum was realized. Plans are being made for card parties to be held at future dates.

Will Entertain Club

Mrs. Lon Gardner of 3460 Perlitia avenue, in the Atwater district, will be hostess on Wednesday afternoon, January 22, to members of the Five-Hundred Card club of the Atwater district. There are twelve members of the club.

CAUSES ACTION
$9 SUIT CAUSES ACTION
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—D. T. Blodgett has filed notice with the county clerk that on January 20 he will move the court for another judge from another county to hear an action to set aside judgment of $9 costs assessed against him last December on an action which he had brought against Louis A. Rowlett and others to recover an alleged commission. Since judgment was awarded against him Blodgett has appealed the case to the appellate court.

SHOWERS BRING CHEER
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—Generous showers in the northern part of the county have relieved the growing anxiety of cattlemen and vegetable growers. Although the rain was not sufficient to stimulate the growth of crops it was declared enough to "keep things alive," so they can benefit from the predicted storms for later in the month.

COLTON MERGER TALKED
SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 16.—Informal discussions of the proposed consolidation of the cities of Colton and San Bernardino are being held here by officials and civic leaders of the two cities. It is possible that out of these discussions some plan will come for bringing the proposed consolidation to a head. Talk of the merger has been resumed during the past two weeks as a result of the effort of the city of Colton to obtain favorable consideration by the county Board of Supervisors for a site known as Ralph's Acres for the proposed new courthouse.

SMALL ACCESSORIES
A powder puff and rouge stick have been inserted in the handle of a pencil small enough to be carried in a woman's hand bag.

PENNEY CO. PLANS UNIQUE MEETING

More Than Thousand Guests
To Gather In Session
At Atlantic City

Noted for its many great inspirational conventions, Atlantic City—the queen of seaside resorts on the Atlantic coast—will be the scene, January 20 to 23, of one that will have a nation-wide significance.

The convention will be held by the J. C. Penney Co. at the Ambassador, one of the palatial hotels of Atlantic City. Managers and their wives to the number of nearly one thousand will be present.

Many notable men will speak, among them William Jennings Bryan, Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio, Dr. Russell H. Conwell.

Jones Family Returns From Big Bear Outing

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Jones and sons, Richard, Robert and Francis, and Mrs. Jones' sister, Miss Kathryn Phillips of Los Angeles, returned Tuesday night from a four days' trip to Big Bear lake, where they enjoyed real eastern winter weather and sports as guests in the Percival cabin on the lake. Mrs. Jones reported the lake covered with eleven inches of ice and skating popular. There was six inches of snow, and snowshoes were used in hiking. Skiing and tobogganing were enjoyed. They made the trip to and from the valley by the desert road, which they reported in good condition.

Another Appointment Made to Police Force

William H. Mitterling of 325 Providencia avenue, Burbank, has been appointed a patrolman on the Glendale police force, announces Chief John D. Fraser.

New England Resident Purchases Restaurant

Ralph W. Burleigh, from New Hampshire, has purchased the Mademoiselle cafe, 212½ North Brand boulevard, and will make a specialty of home cooked foods of all kinds. The Burleighs came to Glendale last May and after visiting a number of Southern California cities decided that Glendale had the best business outlook of any place they had visited.

Humane Society Plans For Annual Election

To plan for the annual election next week, members of the Humane society will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Chamber of Commerce offices on South Brand boulevard, when a nomination committee will be appointed.

Fifty electric locomotives will be used on the Stockholm-Gotenburg railway.

SERVICE STATION THIEVES AT WORK

Tire and Auto Burglars Are Also Busy In Glendale,
Police Hear

Robbery of the service station at Grand View avenue and San Fernando road was attempted last night. Sergeant F. C. Williams of the Glendale police department investigated and found evidences that the door had been tampered with. Entrance was not gained, the thieves being frightened off by passing cars. No clues were left.

Tire thieves who have been operating in Glendale for the past week, continued their depredations last night. Mrs. E. Roudesh of 1062 Linden way, reported today a 3x3½ cord tire stolen from her car last night while it was parked in front of the Tuesday Afternoon club. M. W. Hard

Daily Greeting to News Readers

A GREAT AMBITION—

With an unwillingness to work is self-mockery.
Must always precede a great success.
Is the surge of divinity within the soul.
Is a mother's choicest gift to her son.
Becomes folly when not founded on careful training.
Is usually an unrelenting task-master.
Must be accompanied by a great devotion to duty.

HELPING OURSELVES

The Glendale Evening News has always been an advocate of the practice of patronizing the merchants and the workers of Glendale. Those who wish to hire mechanics and artisans, if they give any thought to the matter at all, will not go out of Glendale to find such workers, but will patronize those who will spend the money they receive for their work here in Glendale. And even more inconsistent than going out of town to hire workmen is the custom of some people who do their trading in neighboring cities, passing by Glendale concerns that have been built up through industry and the investment of large sums of money to the point where they are distinct assets to the community.

There may be those who think they can do better elsewhere, but the editor of The Glendale Evening News is not one of these. He is thoroughly sold on Glendale and what the Glendale stores have to offer, and he honestly believes that the merchandise, the service and the prices offered here compare favorably with those of any city in the world. He is alive to what the merchants of Glendale have done for the city and appreciative of it. Our business center has been, and still is, a great drawing-card, a publicity feature whose value cannot be overestimated.

And now it is time for all the people to reciprocate. On the whole Glendale people are the kind who are able to analyze conditions and draw conclusions, who know that there must be co-operation if Glendale is to retain her proud title as the fastest growing city in America. Mutual effort will lead to progress.

It is not logical for Glendale people to go out of Glendale to trade. Your co-operation is needed in the onward march of Glendale. You may not spend much money, but that little should be spent here at home where it will multiply manifold in accomplishment as it passes from one hand to another. At least give the home merchant a trial. In giving him our business we are helping ourselves.

THE GOLDEN RULE AMONG NATIONS

Some benevolent individuals favor the reduction or the cancellation of France's debt to the United States on the basis of the Golden Rule. Doing unto others as we would have them do to us is a good pattern for the lives of individuals and nations, when sensibly applied.

The man who owes $5000 at the bank would be glad to have his note cancelled. The Golden Rule would work very beneficially in his case. But a wholesale cancelling of notes on the part of banks would be a little rough on the depositors, who would have to suffer the loss. Such a course would not only demoralize the entire system of banking and credit and create chaos in business, but it would amount to one set of the bank's patrons giving charity to another, equally able and responsible.

The war cost America some $20,000,000,000, which the nation still owes to bondholders. In addition, our government borrowed $8,000,000,000 to loan to the allies. If this sum is not paid it will have to be raised by taxation, and it is for all the people to say whether or not they wish to be taxed to pay Europe's war bills.

Some of the nations of Europe are only waiting to recover from the late war before they fly at one another's throats again. To cancel the debt of any nation would only establish a precedent that would further complicate our dealings with other countries in the future. When a judge imposes a fine upon a criminal and then remits the fine he encourages the wrongdoer, and others who are criminally inclined, to repeat the offense.

PRESERVING THE PAST

The world is moving so rapidly today that we give very little time or thought to the preservation of places and objects of historical interest or to keep alive the spirit peculiar to these places. There is a movement on foot in Virginia to preserve the old city of Williamsburg, which was the capital of the province in Colonial times, raze all the modern buildings and reconstruct the town as it was in the old days, with nothing modern in it, nothing that would suggest changes that have taken place in the world in the last three centuries. Such a project would not only be a worthy memorial to the early and formative period of our national life, but an object lesson in progress, for such a place would proclaim more plainly than many volumes of the printed word how the world has advanced since Colonial times.

Here in the west we boast that our history is colorful and romantic, but we give very little time, thought or money to preserving historic objects or marking localities that have enriched our local history. Old landmarks are going so rapidly that in a few years we have forgotten where they stood or that they ever existed. Some of the old missions, due to the devotion of John Steven McGroarty, have been partially restored, while others have been allowed to fall to shameful ruin. All of the missions and many other objects of historic interest and localities that have played so large a part in California's history should be kept intact for posterity.

FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

There was something significant in the meeting in New York a week ago of the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand for Law Enforcement. To some this meeting was the beginning of the end of the reign of lawlessness in this country. Such men as Judge Elbert Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation; John D. Rockefeller, jr., and Mayor William E. Dever of Chicago were present at this meeting. In his speech Judge Gary demanded that in the observance and the enforcement of laws there be no discrimination between laws. This committee was formed, he said, to "sound a public warning" and to search for remedial measures against the failure of law enforcement. "The present disregard for law," said Judge Gary, "or indifference to it, or failure to enforce it, constitutes a blot upon our escutcheon."

The fact that such men as Gary and Rockefeller and many others prominently identified with industry and business are interesting themselves in the present menace of disregard for law, and that this committee has offered support to President Coolidge and the prohibition enforcement machinery of the federal government, is encouraging to those who have become doubtful of the possibility of enforcing certain statutes.

THIS ONE ALSO THREATENS TO BE TOTAL!

Sharing Thought

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is one commodity of which we have the more we give away.

That is thought.

Whoever has a good and wholesome thought ought to share it with another.

This will make him none the poorer, although it will make the other man much richer.

When you give something out of your purse,

you have less in it, but when you give something out of your thought, your supply has not materially decreased.

In fact, it has increased, for the more you give to another the more you have.

Most troubles to which the human race is subject come from the wrong thought, and if you have a good one, a helpful and constructive one,

it is your duty to pass it on.

We talk much in this world, and much that we say has no meaning. It is merely repeating parrot-like what we have heard from someone else. But if, out of your meditations or your experience,

there has come something that has helped you,

it may help another.

Cicero, I think, compares the process of giving

mental help to the business of lighting one candle

from another. The flame is passed on, but there is no diminution of the original supply.

Thoughts are given us, not to chew over for ourselves, not to run away with and hide, but to communicate to others. And if we can find a man that is ready to receive them, and a suitable occasion, there is nothing more pleasurable than giving them.

Every thinker ought to be a talker. Of course,

he should select his time to talk and the person to whom he is to talk; but the more he expresses his thought clearly the more concise that thought becomes, and the more helpful it is.

The great men of the race have not always been original thinkers. They have been those who expressed their thoughts in such a way as to pass them on to others. They uttered humanity.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

How fortunate it is that neither the old men nor the young men dominate this world!

From the standpoint of youth,

life seems to stretch away into an endless future; from the standpoint of age, to go back but a little way in the past. In youth life

presents us a picture in which the objects appear a great way off,

as though we had reversed our telescope; while in the end everything seems so close. To see how short life is, a man must have grown old, that is to say, to have lived long.

Youth and age, inspiration and experience, working together, give us the proper balance.

As the years increase, things

look smaller, one and all,"

Schopenhauer observes; "and life,

which had so firm and stable a base in the days of our youth, now

seems nothing but a rapid flight

of moments, every one of them

illusory; we have come to see that the whole world is vanity!"

Time itself seems to go at a much slower pace when we are young; so that not only is the first quarter of life the happiest to most persons, it is the longest of all; it leaves more memories behind it.

If a man were put to it, he could tell you more out of the first quarter of his life than out of two of the remaining periods.

Why is it that to an old man

his past life appears so short?

Schopenhauer explains:

"His memory is short; and he

so fancies that his life has been short, too. He no longer remembers that insignificant parts of it,

and much that was unpleasant is now forgotten; how little, then,

here is left! For, in general, a man's memory is as imperfect as his intellect; and he must make a practice of reflecting upon the lessons he has learned and the events he has experienced, if he does not want them both to sink

gradually into the gulf of oblivion."

A man's recollection of what has happened always becomes proportionately shorter, the more things that have occupied him in life. The things we did in years gone by, the events that happened

long ago, are like those objects on the coast which, to the seafarer on his outward voyage, become smaller every minute, more unrecognizable and harder to distinguish.

Who's Who

Recent statements of Etienne Clementel, France's minister of finance, regarding his country's attitude in the payment of her war debt to America, have drawn much attention. M. Clementel denies urging repudiation of the debt, as first reports of a speech in the chamber of deputies intimated he had done.

M. Clementel, prior to his selection as minister of finance in the Herriot cabinet, held many other important posts in France. He has been minister of agriculture and commerce and colonial minister.

He was one of the Clemenceau
government which ordered the arrest of ex-Premier Caillaux on a charge of high treason. He began his career as a lawyer and mayor of his native town of Riom, in the department of Puy-de-Dome.

Much of his life has been de-

Republican Club Divided Over Entering City Fight

President Person declared the clause of the charter to be vague and indefinite, and said no court would back the city in its enforcement.

This brought Dr. Jessie Russell and Attorney Wende to their feet simultaneously. With a hair-trigger attack, Dr. Russell beat the attorney with the first word of protest against the assertions that the city charter would not hold water. She declared the charter was adopted after months of study and preparation and passed the okay of twenty-nine of the best charter experts of the nation.

Attorney Wende attempted to supplement the assertions of Dr. Russell, but was ruled out of order by President Person. Mr. Wende rose to a point of personal privilege and appealed the decision of the chair to the club members. The vote stood against him and he refrained from further argument in defense of the charter for the time.

Split In Committee
The resolutions drawn up by the executive board of the club at its last meeting were read at the opening of last night's stormy session by President Person who presided. After he had read the resolution, President Person stated he would not undertake to argue in its favor, and then launched into a long and virile defense of the executive body's action in presenting the document and urged strongly its adoption. Incidentally, the executive committee was divided 5 to 4 on the resolution.

A motion for the adoption of the resolution was placed by H. V. Adams, spokesman for proponents of the resolution. It was seconded by Charles E. Stanley. Upon the instance of Mr. Adams, debate was limited to one hour, divided as follows: Ten minutes to the speaker for the affirmative, ten minutes for the speaker of the negative, thirty minutes for general debate—three minutes to each speaker—and five minutes apiece for the affirmative and negative for rebuttal.

Rumors, Investigations
Mr. Adams opened the discussion, declaring he believed a Republican club could indulge in non-partisan politics. He hinted at rumors which have recently assailed the characters of present councilmen, with the assertion that a body to investigate these rumors and the characters and ability of councilmen and prospective councilmen and other officials, would be welcomed by him. He claimed adoption of the resolution would provide such an investigating body.

J. C. Sherer, city treasurer and pioneer resident of Glendale, challenged Mr. Adams to explain how the club could at one and the same time be both Republican and non-partisan. He said he in no way objected to an organization which would perform the functions of an investigating committee but warned against the Republican club making over this obligation, urging against the labeling promiscuously of city candidates as "Republican."

"Party politics in municipal affairs is a nuisance and doesn't mean anything," declared Mr. Sherer. "Let us be very cautious in placing such a responsibility where it does not belong. Let us be very careful in stamping municipal candidates 'Republican.'" Mr. Sherer ended with a plea for harmony and a warning against disrupting forces within the Republican ranks.

No Excuse for Action
Mr. Cowan took the floor when the meeting was thrown open for general debate, championing the cause of those opposed to the club's being dragged into municipal political scraps. He said: "There is no excuse for party control or party interference of local politics."

"The principles that distinguish the national political parties and the issues that come up in our national elections are as different from the principles and issues involved in municipal government as day is different from night."

"There is no similarity between national and city issues, nothing in common between them. That being true, it can serve no good purpose for the parties, as such, to participate in local elections and to control local governments."

"Where the political parties concern themselves in city affairs the majority party, whether Republican or Democrat, takes advantage of the situation and keeps the men of the minority party from holding office and participating in the affairs of government."

"This often leads to barring men of superior ability from the rights of citizenship without just cause, a condition that is unfair to the citizen and is not for the best interests of the city."

"Because a man favors a tariff or opposes a tariff is no valid reason for electing him mayor of a city or for keeping him from that office."

Build Up Machine
"The tendency, and very often the purpose, in introducing party politics into municipal government is to build up a machine, whereby the local partisan seeks aid from those higher in power in his party and when a municipal election takes place there is undue interest shown by politicians from the outside."

"If one wished to be elected mayor under the partisan system he must appeal to the members of the party organization and they use their influence and spend their time and money to elect him to office."

"It follows naturally that he is indebted to the machine and must fulfill his obligations to it and take orders from the boss even though all this may interfere with his duties as mayor of the city."

"Most of us have had the opportunity in times past, in other cities to observe the workings of the party machine in municipal politics, due to the practice of injecting partisan politics in local affairs."

"Glendale is strongly Republican but the Republican party has no more right to control the affairs of Glendale than has the Catholic church, or the Presbyterian church, or the Kiwanis club or any other church or organization."

From All Parties

"If there must be organization in municipal affairs let it be made up of men and women from all the parties, all the clubs and all the churches and of men and women who belong to none of them."

"Let the organization be representative."

"Where there is not general representation in municipal affairs there will be injustice and unfairness."

"Municipalities have very generally done away with the party machine. Glendale is going forward in other respects. Why take a step backward in a matter of this kind?"

Mr. Cowan also declared that the resolutions presented to the club followed a split vote by the executive committee that the club fling itself into the local political fight, and that, although the resolutions were sugar-coated, he believed their effect would be to accomplish the avowed aim of those seeking to be political bosses if they can muster sufficient strength and get sufficient nourishment."

Others who opposed the resolution from the floor included Attorney Wende and Dr. T. R. Crowell. Mr. Sherer spoke for Judge Frank H. Lowe, expressing his opposition to the movement also. Colonel James W. Everington, F. A. Clarke and others took the floor in favor of entering the political arena in Glendale.

By-laws of the Republican club were read by H. D. Clark, a member of the committee on rules, and were adopted. President Person announced the annual meeting on February 12 when a full new set of permanent officers are to be elected.

By-Laws Are Adopted

Following the by-laws adopted last night by those attending the Republican club meeting:

By-Laws of Glendale Republican Club
I
The latest edition of Robert's Rules of Order is adopted as the binding authority and guide of the Glendale Republican club in all matters of parliamentary procedure except as modified or changed by the constitution or by-laws.

II
The annual meeting of the club shall be held on the 12th day of February, notice of which shall be published at least once a week for two weeks in the local press. There shall also be held such other meetings as may be called from time to time by the president, with the advice of the executive committee, notice of which shall be given through the local press, together with the object thereof, at least three days prior to such meeting.

III
A quorum for the annual meeting shall consist of 25 per cent of the active members, and at least twenty in number for all other meetings.

IV
All elections shall be by ballot, except where only one nomination is made for any position.

V
All nominations shall be made from the floor.

VI
Any new by-laws may be adopted, or existing by-laws amended or repealed at any duly called meeting of the club, previous notice of the meeting having first been given as provided in By-law No. II, and in addition thereto the proposed new by-law, or amendment, or repeal, shall be textually published with said notice at least once before the meeting, fixing the time for such meeting at least ten days after such publication.

VII
All standing committees shall consist of not less than five members.

VIII
The members of the club from each precinct in the city of Glendale shall elect one of their number as a member of the Central committee, and, until such action is so taken, the president shall appoint a member from each precinct who shall act until a full committee shall be elected as above provided.

IX
It shall be the duty of the Central committee to perform the various duties generally performed by such committees of political organizations.

X
It is the duty of the Committee on Memberships to promote the membership of the club and to receive applications for membership and to report thereon.

XI
New members shall subscribe to the principles of the club, in conformity with Section 1, Article 3, of the Constitution.

XII
It is the duty of the Committee on Rules and By-laws to consider and report to the club for its action all proposals for adoption, amendment or repeal of the rules or by-laws, from time to time; the action of the club on such reports to be governed by the provisions of By-law No. VI.

XIII
The Committee on Legislation is charged with the duty of keeping the club informed on all questions of legislation affecting the welfare, both material and moral, of the local public, including city or county ordinances, as well as state and national laws, their enactment, amendment or repeal.

XIV
The Committee on Registration and Elections shall encourage generally, in co-operation with the press and other organizations, the registration and transfer of electors; shall submit to the club a list of voters suitable for deputy registrars, with recommendation of places convenient for their work and precinct polling places, and a list, also, of persons qualified to act as precinct election officials; all such reports to be made on or before sixty days prior to the following election.

XV
The Committee on War Veterans' Welfare shall have charge of the matter of advising and aiding veterans of all wars, disabled in the military or naval service of the United States, or otherwise, in need of assistance, including admission to hospitals and free help in obtaining pensions or proper increase thereof. Like services shall be rendered, when necessary, to the families of veterans, their widows and orphans.

XVI
The Committee on Observance of Patriotic Anniversaries will co-operate with all other like agencies in such public observance on the part of the schools, churches, and the public generally, including the attendance and active participation on the part of the club.

XVII
The Committee on Citizenship shall seek to inculcate in the foreign-born due respect for the laws of the land, and sympathy and right understanding of our institutions, and encourage the naturalization of eligible aliens. This committee shall also procure for the club, when finances will justify the expenditure, sufficient copies of the Constitution of the United States for distribution among its members.

XVIII
It shall be the duty of the Committee on Finances to raise revenues to meet the necessary expenses of the club, including the recommendation to the club for its action of annual membership dues; and to audit the expenditures made by the treasurer by the direction or on approval of the Executive committee.

XIX
The Committee on Education will give attention to educational questions bearing upon the training of children for citizenship, respect for law and reverence for our institutions; and shall report from time to time, at least once a year, the status of school finances, receipts and disbursements of all funds for such purposes.

THOS. H. CORNETT, Chairman.
HARRY D. CLARK, VALENCIA WATSON, Committee.

The Wrath To Come

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, Copyright 1924

CHAPTER XXII

"Service A' we call it now," Hodson confided. "Nothing much in a name, anyway. And nothing much in the job lately. I'd been over in Honolulu a month when they called for me."

Grant pushed up an easy-chair, produced cigars, whisky and a syphon, and rang for ice.

"I was afraid they weren't going to send for you after all," he observed. "They didn't seem in any way anxious to put me in touch with you. Tell me honestly, Hodson, what do you think of me in the Department?"

"They are interested," the latter acknowledged, stretching himself out and lighting a cigar. "They have a great respect for your insight on all ordinary matters, but in the present instance they are inclined to think that you have a bee in your bonnet."

"I was afraid so," Grant admitted. "I'm not surprised at it."

"They think that you've been mixing with foreigners and especially with the British, pretty freely, over on the other side," Hodson continued, "and that you got a lot of un-American stuff in your blood. You know Secret Service and foreign plots and all these 'German cum Japanese' scares don't cut much ice in Washington these days. You should hear Senator Ross on the subject."

"I've heard him," Grant groaned. "I know the spirit, too, and I know perfectly well, Hodson, that if I'd been living in America for the last twenty years and hadn't been out of it except as a tourist, I should probably be feeling exactly the same way. Ross is wrong. I should have been wrong. There's a very terrible crisis looming up before us. You and I, Hodson, are going to avert the greatest calamity with which the world has ever been threatened."

"Let me warn you," Hodson said, "my instructions are to go down slow with you. I am to do nothing which will make a laughing stock of the Department or which will evoke even questions from nations with whom we are upon friendly terms."

"I quite understand your position," Grant assured him. "When you're convinced, as you will be soon, you'll be with me body and soul. Until then, I'll take you by the hand carefully."

"Let's get to work then," Hodson suggested. "Give me an outline of your suspicions and show me the loose threads that you can't lay hold of yourself."

"Right!" Grant declared. "First of all, in Monte Carlo I came across a plot to prevent that invitation being sent to America to join the Pact of Nations. I frustrated it. Over dinner some time I'll tell you how. That doesn't matter for the moment. The information upon which I acted came partly from the Princess von Diss, who was sent from Berlin to Monte Carlo to see what I was up to there, and partly from a dancing girl, the sweet heart of Count Itash, a young man who has held various diplomatic positions in Japan and whom I should describe as Japanese arch intriguer, just as Cornelius Blunn is Germany's. The information she gave me was correct."

"Is this man Itash the sort of a person who gives away his secrets to his feminine companions?" Hodson asked quietly.

"Not in the least," Grant acknowledged. "As a matter of fact, we have only just discovered the truth. He talks in his sleep. The girl unfortunately is madly in love with him and only gives him away piecemeal. A few days ago in a fury of jealousy—Itash has brought another woman out here—she told me that he was worried about Japan's contracts with the steel houses here, in addition to their importations from Germany. I spoke to Washington on the telephone. They have agreed to take the matter up. They have already applied to their own steel companies for particulars of the last two years, and when they get it, which they will before the Limitation of Armaments Conference, it will be a link in the chain, though, Japan's clever enough to wiggle out of that, or to keep the thing going

THE GATEWAY

Most people have heard of going over Niagara Falls in a barrel, but few have seen it done. Tom Mix drops over a narrow, steep slippery, treacherous waterfall without the aid of a barrel, in his latest Fox production, "The Last of the Duanees," adapted from Zane Grey's story. It is hardly necessary to state that the cascade is not as high as Niagara. Tom takes chances, but he has good judgment and several reasons to remain in this terrestrial sphere.

However, the stunt is far from tame and furnishes more than a casual thrill or two. In fact, if you don't gasp it will be because you have lost your breath. Wait until you see it at the Gateway theatre today and tomorrow.

until it's too late. It just helps, that's all. Last night the girl was fool enough to try and shoot her rival. She escaped arrest and came to me. She declared that unless Itash promised to give up the other woman she would tell the wonderful things. We telephoned Itash, who was still ignorant of his nocturnal indiscretions and who came round at once. His attitude towards the girl was brutal and I am convinced that she was on the point of making a full disclosure of all she knew. Cornelius Blunn, however, had discovered the leakage, and Blunn, I am sorry to tell you, Hodson, is, I believe, on very friendly terms with certain members of your police organization here. They managed to effect the girl's arrest just as Itash had reduced her to a state of fury, and they did their best, acting under special orders, to prevent her saying a word to me. She told me one thing in French. She whispered that the whole secret of a great internal conspiracy against America could be discovered in a little gold casket which never leaves Blunn's possession. It is at present in room twelve hundred and eight of this hotel."

"Has she anything more to tell?" Hodson asked.

"I know that she has," Grant assured him. "But, although the charge against her can scarcely be a very serious one, as the girl was uninjured, they refuse to allow me, or even a lawyer, whom I engaged, to see her at all. She is at present in the Tombs. The charge against her, I suppose, could be handled in many different ways, but can she be kept le-

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"The Hole in the Wall" is exceeding even the reputation it gained last week as a melodramatic thriller. Each night the Dobinson Players hold a large audience at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre spellbound with the enchantment of this weird spiritualistic play. Tonight and tomorrow night will witness the last performances. The curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock.

Mary Worth, in the role of Jean Oliver, a woman unjustly confined in a state prison, dominates the play. In order to secure freedom and vindicate herself, she associates with a crook gang, inspiring them to mystic adventures through her knowledge of spiritualism.

"The Hole in the Wall" was written by Fred Jackson, author of a score of big Broadway hits. The present offering had a successful New York run, where it was hailed with such enthusiasm as the jaded eastern metropolis seldom accords any play.

gally from seeing either a lawyer or a friend?"

"She cannot," Hodson declared. "Then let this be your start," Grant begged. "Go to the Tombs this minute. You have the right to insist upon seeing her. Do so. Tell her you come from me. Here is my card."

"Accompany me," Hodson suggested after a moment's reflection. "We will interview the young lady together."

Colonel Hodson, it appeared, was after all a little sanguine. At Police Headquarters he left Grant in the waiting room while he made his way to visit a personage in authority. Instead of the few minutes he had mentioned, however, he was gone nearly half an hour. When he returned there was a marked change in his manner. He seemed, subconsciously, to be treating Grant with a little more respect.

Uncle Wiggly

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGLY'S BOILED EGGS

"How will you have your eggs this morning, Uncle Wiggly?" called Nurse Jane in the hollow stump bungalow to the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"Hard boiled!" he answered, twinkling his pink nose sideways. "Always, every morning, this same talk went on in the bungalow. Nurse Jane would ask how the bunny wanted his eggs and he would always say 'Hard!'"

You might have thought that Nurse Jane might have known, after five or six years, that Mr. Longears wanted his eggs hard.

"But just as like as not," said the muskrat lady housekeeper to Mrs. Twistytail, the pig lady, "if I didn't ask him and if I should boil them soft for him he wouldn't eat them."

"Perhaps," agreed Mrs. Twistytail.

So Nurse Jane boiled the eggs in the hot, bubbling water until she thought they were hard enough, and then she carried them in to the bunny gentleman.

Now, Uncle Wiggly had a very funny way of trying his eggs to see if they were hard enough before he ate them. Instead of breaking the shell with his spoon and chipping it off, the bunny would take up one of his breakfast eggs and throw it on the floor.

"If it's boiled soft, as it should be, it will squish," Uncle Wiggly used to say. "But if the egg is boiled hard it will just pop down ker-chug-like and the shell will gently creak."

Now, I am not saying, mind you, that Uncle Wiggly did right, thus to toss his eggs to the floor to see if they were hard boiled. Even the best of us do things we ought not to, and Uncle Wiggly was no exception.

So this time, when Nurse Jane brought in the plate of boiled eggs, Uncle Wiggly picked one up in his napkin, so he wouldn't burn his paws, and he was just going to throw it on the floor, to see if the egg was hard enough boiled, when, all of a sudden, there was a noise at the window, and up it went and in came the Wiggly Wolf.

"Oh!" cried the bunny, and he was so surprised that he didn't drop the egg.

"You didn't expect to see me so early, did you?" growled the Wolf.

"No," answered the bunny. "I didn't. You—you're just in time for breakfast, you see."

"Your breakfast, or mine?" snarled the bad chap.

"What difference does it make?" asked Uncle Wiggly, politely. "I might say for both our breakfasts."

"It makes a lot of difference!" snapped the Wolf. "If I eat you for my breakfast, then you won't be here to eat breakfast for yourself!"

"But you aren't going to eat me, are you?" asked the poor bunny.

"That's just what I'm going to do!" snarled the Wolf. "First, won't you have some eggs?" begged Mr. Longears. "See, I have some lovely hard boiled eggs and I'll give you this one. Just see how lovely and hard it is!"

With that, Uncle Wiggly threw the egg. But, instead of throwing it on the floor, he threw it straight at the Wolf. And, as it happened, Nurse Jane had made a life, and boiled the egg soft! mistake, for the first time in her And the soft boiled egg splashed in the Wolf's nose and broke. And the white and yellow splattered in his eyes.

"Oh, scowze! Wowzie! Wow!" howled the bad chap. "Oh, I guess I'm killed dead! I'm going to run home before I'm hurt any worse!"

And away he ran, lippy-top, with the egg streaming down his face. So he didn't get the bunny for breakfast, after all, and Nurse Jane boiled the rest of the eggs hard for the bunny, so everything was all right. And if the radio loud speaker doesn't talk in the night and make the frying pan think the coffee pot is asking for a drink of water, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's catnip tea.

Realtors See Good Business Ahead For City

Real estate sales totaling $42,500 in the past ten days were reported today by J. H. Bolen of the firm of Sawyer & Bolen, realtors, 211 West Broadway. These sales comprise: A duplex at the northeast corner of California avenue and Concord street, owned by John Glynn and sold to A. T. McCargar, a resident of Glendale for the past two years, formerly of Seattle; a four-family flat at 1145 North Myland avenue, also sold to Mr. McCargar; and a nine-room home at 501 North Louise street, sold to Mrs. Konigstein. These sales lead Mr. Bolen to believe that the local realty situation has taken a definite upward trend. He feels that the period of relative inactivity is about over and that February and March will see tremendous activity in Glendale real estate.

PROPERTY OWNERS IN BOOSTER MEET

Lake Street District Holds Conference on Paving Of Thoroughfares

A meeting of property owners of the Lake street district at Lyman's garage on Flower street, was held last night. Approximately seventy-five people were in attendance.

The subject under discussion was whether the program for street improvement according to petition filed October 30, 1924, which was initiated some time back in the City Council, would be continued. The difference of opinion rested on the advisability of continuing the improvement of all the streets in the district in one large project, or to proceed with them one street at a time.

After thorough discussion of the subject and the elimination of those people who were not affected by the assessment for the improvement, a ballot vote was taken. By a vote of 56 to 1 it was decided to install the pavement on all the streets in one project, thereby prophesying one of the best improved districts in Glendale.

The people in this district, which was annexed to Glendale ten years ago, now have provided for waterworks, sewers, gas, curbs and pavement. These improvements will all be completed by the time they have been a portion of Glendale less than one and one-half years. This is a record never before equaled in the city, it is declared.

Adventist Party Back From Inspection Tour

B. M. Emerson, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Union conference of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, returned today to his desk at conference headquarters, 602 East Broadway, after a visit to Adventist institutions in Oakland, Lodi and Fresno. He was accompanied by Professor W. W. Rubie, Elder David Voth and Elder W. F. Martin. The party left Glendale Saturday, January 10. They report the northern institutions in a flourishing condition. At Oakland they encountered cold weather and declare that everywhere they went in the north the winter seemed unusually severe. Tomorrow the party will visit the newly opened La Sierra academy, near Arlington, ten miles southeast of Riverside. Sunday and Monday they will attend a two-day educational gathering at the Seventh-day church in Eagle Rock.

Chicagoans Guests at Mrs. Cannaday Lunch

Mrs. Adele W. Cannaday of 436 West Harvard street, hostess today at the second of a series of luncheons, honoring her sister, Mrs. T. H. Herman of Chicago, Ill., who is visiting in Glendale. Guests were Mesdames E. H. Binns, Arthur B. Carpenter, Edgar Faye Daugherty, James S. Lamshe, E. W. Raff, Los Angeles; Mrs. William Henry Beeman, Santa Monica; Mrs. Burle Armstrong, Lankershim; Mrs. E. R. Ranson, Eagle Rock.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Jan. 16.—Business on the first day of operation was rushing in the new Verdugo City postoffice, so states Postmaster Busch, who also says the 108 lock boxes are practically all rented and that when they are taken there is an order for another 100 to keep up with the demand. The cancellation the first day was much larger than expected. Many of the box renters came from the upper end of La Crescenta and Montrose.

Tomorrow night a dance will be held in the Fowler hall in the interest of the postoffice building, which was formerly the Fowler tract office but has an additional room twice the size of the former one. Persons desiring to receive their mail at the postoffice are requested to have mail addressed Verdugo City, Los Angeles county, Calif.

Marriages in this country this year will number 1,200,000 say estimators.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE IN INSTALLATION

Union Label Society Holds Ceremonies and Plans
For Future

Officers of the Women's Union Label league were installed last night at ceremonies held in the hall at 108 North Brand boulevard. Mrs. Minnie Creller, past president of the Pasadena Women's Label league, was the installing officer and was assisted by Mrs. Florence Nickerson, installing sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. A. V. Fitch, installing secretary; Mrs. Tucker, also a past president of the Pasadena league and twenty-six members from Pasadena were present.

Following the installation a program was presented including a song, dance and recitation by Ellenore Frary Thompson, and piano and vocal numbers by J. K. Sands. Officers installed are: Mrs. J. D. Hall, president; Mrs. H. H. Black, vice-president; Mrs. A. A. Stoner, second vice-president; Mrs. O. G. Thompson, corresponding and recording secretary; Mrs. A. D. Hurd, treasurer; Mrs. J. L. Gemmell, financial secretary; Mrs. C. G. Hammer, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. L. Wilson, doorkeeper; Mrs. G. L. Uckles, trustee.

At a short business session plans were discussed for a Valentine masquerade dance to be held on the night of February 14. A meeting of the league will be held Thursday afternoon, January 22, at 1 o'clock, when plans for the dance will be completed and work started on a quilt to be sold. Supper was served by a committee composed of Mrs. H. H. Black, Mrs. W. W. Stoner and Mrs. Mosely, after which dancing was enjoyed.

Mrs. Minnie Creller, installing officer, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by Mrs. H. H. Black, vice-president of the local league, and Mrs. J. D. Hall, newly installed president, was presented with a lovely basket of flowers by Mrs. C. G. Hammer, in behalf of the league.

Glendale Women Back From Speaking Tour

Mrs. Paul A. Hoffman, 327 North Maryland avenue, and Mrs. E. C. Bentz of 804 South Verdugo road, returned late yesterday from a two-day trip, taken to address missionary societies of Lutheran churches in the life membership and thank offering projects Wednesday they motored to Redlands, where they had lunch and addressed the missionary society of the Lutheran church. Later they drove to Riverside, where they spoke at a gathering of men and women. As results of their talks four life memberships were taken by the Riverside missionary society and eight honorary memberships in the local society were taken by men of the church. After spending the night at Riverside they went to San Bernardino for a meeting Thursday. There they met the daughter of the oldest missionary of their denomination in Africa. The women's society of San Bernardino and the children's brigade took a life membership for the pastor's wife.

"Our trip was most successful," said Mrs. Hoffman, "for it gave the opportunity of meeting the church women and making our mission much more interesting than if presented by writing. We are greatly gratified over the results of the trip."

City Pays Four Cents Mile to Operate Cars

It costs the city of Glendale an average of 4 cents a mile to operate its motor cars. This figure is revealed in a report just completed by H. C. Saulsberry, city controller. The report covers the eighty-five gasoline-driven vehicles owned by the city, including roadsters, touring cars, trucks, tractors, fire engines and motorcycles.

A 1918 Buick, six-cylinder roadster in the fire department was operated for the past six months at an average cost of .0325 cents per mile, the report shows. This is contrasted with the average operating cost of .452 per mile for the 1921 American-La France fire truck. A 1924 Dodge six-cylinder touring car in the police department was operated during the past six months for .0313 cents per mile, the report shows. These costs include gas, repairs, oil, rubber and insurance.

Nearly all farms in Brazil are tilted by the aid of implements from the United States.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils
Opens Air Passages Right Up

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Advertisement.

Evening News Given Thanks For Publicity

Representing the Glendale Music club, Mrs. Helen I. Campbell, corresponding secretary, has sent the following letter of appreciation to The Glendale Evening News: "The board of directors of the Glendale Music club wish to extend their most sincere thanks for the co-operation and publicity given the club by The Glendale Evening News at all times, and especially at the time of 'The Messiah,' in December."

CAMPAIGN PLANS FOR BONDS MADE

Glendale Labor to Be Used
If Issue Carries, Is Committee Decision

Glendale labor will be employed in so far as possible on all jobs concerned with expansion of local school facilities, if the proposed $2,400,000 bond issue carries at the polls on February 19, it was agreed last night at a meeting of the General School Bond Campaign committee, held in the offices of the board of education, 107 1/2 South Brand boulevard. V. M. Hollister, chairman, presiding.

Discussion of ways and means to further success of the issue resulted in adoption of a number of plans. Speakers will be selected and trained, it was decided. The campaign was estimated to cost $500, which will be subscribed privately and not come out of the funds of either board.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, offered the board of education offices as bond headquarters. The committee accepted the offer and voted to hold their next meeting there at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, January 21.

Name Chairmen
Mrs. Frank W. Parr was elected secretary, and the following subcommittee chairmen were appointed by Mr. Hollister: W. E. Howell, finance; P. J. Hayselden and E. D. Knuchell, publicity; O. H. Spradling, precinct; William McMillan, land valuation; Frank W. Parr, speakers' bureau. Each subcommittee chairman will appoint from three to five committee members.

Mr. McMillan stated that he will ask the appraisal committee of the Glendale Realty board to make a study of the proposed sites and report to the land committee.

The following were present: From the Glendale city board of education: Mrs. A. A. Barton, president; Richardson D. White, superintendent; and John T. Cate, business manager. From the Glendale Union High school board of trustees: H. W. Yarrick, trustee; and George U. Moyle, principal. V. M. Hollister, J. H. Randall, P. J. Hayselden, William McMillan, W. E. Howell, Mrs. Frank W. Parr, Mrs. M. A. Wichert, E. D. Knuchell, C. F. Dinwiddie, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery and Mrs. O. H. Spradling also attended the meeting.

Evangelistic Service To Conclude Tonight

Interest is continuing in the evangelistic meetings at the Nazarene church. Rev. St. Clair took as his sermon text last night Luke 29:49. The final service will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the church, 417 East Acacia street. The young people's society of the church will hold a street meeting at 7 o'clock Saturday night at the corner of Harvard street and Brand boulevard. The service will be directed by the acting president, Vernon Wilcox, assisted by Archie Rutledge.

Local Actor Appears In Santa Monica Play

Richard Ehlers, member of the Dobinson Players, took a prominent part Tuesday night in the presentation of "Candida" by the Santa Monica Theatre Guild at the Santa Monica high school. Robert Hutton is director. Mrs. Florence Dobinson, Mary Isabel Alpaugh of the Dobinson Players, Reba and Harold Phillips motored to Santa Monica to attend the performance. Later they attended a reception at the Judge Hutton home.

San Diego Minister In Talk at Church Here

Rev. W. (Bill) K. Ray, pastor of the University Heights Methodist church at San Diego, gave a short talk at the midweek service held last night at the Broadway Methodist church. A dinner was served by the Women's Missionary society under the direction of Mrs. N. J. Haynes, vice-president. Sixty-five people were present for the Community Bible class, conducted by Rev. Maurice M. Johnson, pastor of the church.

Psychology Lecture At Burbank Saturday

Auxiliary Plans for Installation Program

Much interest is being taken in the installation ceremonial to be held Monday night by the women's auxiliary to the American Legion at the Egyptian Village. In addition to the installation there will be a program. Pearl Keller studio presenting Eleanor Marek, Adrienne McDade and Winifred Walker. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baron are to give violin and piano numbers.
These talented artists were formerly in Chautauqua concert work and Mr. Baron is now popular as the commander of the Verdugo Hills Legion post. Madame Bernice Brainerd, well known as special accompanist to Pavlowa and Denishawn dancers, who is temporarily located in her home near Glendale, is to assist with the program. Reservations for the affair must be made by 6 o'clock Saturday night. There will be dancing and refreshments.

Community Sing Is Held In School House

The second community sing of the season was held last night at the Glendale avenue school under the auspices of the Community Service, in co-operation with the Parent-Teacher associations of the Pacific, Acacia, Cerritos and Glendale avenue schools, under the direction of J. Arthur Myers. H.
S. Robinson had charge of the singing chart. Mrs. Harry McMullin sang "Rose of My Heart," by Lohr, and "My Desire," by Nevin.
A trio composed of J. Arthur Myers, cello; Julius Kranz, violin, and Mrs. Gertrude Erb, piano, played "Country Dance," by Gave and "Extasse," by Gounie. Julius Kranz played a group of his own compositions. The community sing next Thursday night will be held at the Harvard High school.

JOHNSON DENIES APPEAL FOR LAW

President of American Loop Insists He Does Not
Crave Commission

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—"I have given no such endorsement to any idea of government control of baseball, by commission or otherwise, as the proposal of Mr. Collyer might indicate."

This was the statement late yesterday of Ban Johnson, president of the American league, issued in refutation of published articles linking his name with an endorsement of proposed federal control of the national sport.

"The newspaper article, sent out of New York, which connects me with a suggestion is, as a reading of the full story indicates, based on a very brief reply I made to a letter from Mr. Collyer of Cleveland, which suggested that the national game should be under control."

"There has often been discussion of what government action should be taken to curb the evils of gambling and the lottery pools, as they affect baseball, and my brief answer was in the abstract sense with the thought in mind that the government should be of aid to us in suppression of gambling and curbing of gamblers operating nation-wide."

BOWLING SCORES

The Central Cleaners took the shine off the Glendale Bootery last night in a Mercantile league match at the Recreation alley, winning the first and third games. Sands of the losers was largely responsible for his team winning the second game, when he rolled 224 for high individual score.

Psenner Brothers' crew shocked the Coast to Coast Army Store, taking all three games. E. Brehme rolled high score of the match with 213 in the opening contest. The scores:

NEW SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY IN GLANDOGEN

Many leading authorities and scientists have proved by actual tests, that the benefits of gland transplantation may be obtained by giving the patient gland substance to be taken internally, rather than by operation.

Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands, "We must insist upon the enforcement of their functions, if changed by age or disease, by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen, for men and women, is obtainable at Almann Drug Co., Brand at Harvard. Free booklets on request.—Advertisement.

Sportdom All Over

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Joseph L. Kelley

"But I really thought I ought to get busy if I intended getting into the movies before I got too far along in years." This statement comes "in quotes" to Ye Ed from a woman 75 years old who says "flapper who break into the movies aren't all giddy." Her name is Netta Stiles who, her press agent says, "has established herself in an enviable position in the films."

He's the only one who knows this deep secret. This same "giddy old flapper" continues, "and she (flapper) is generally found out at some cafe or cabaret, often getting a touch of the giddy life which she was denied in her youth 'way back in middle of the last century.' Shades of P. T. Barnum!

Here's a fine example of asininity, idiocy and plain brainless stupidity on the part of some of the alleged "intellectuals" masquerading under the guise of press agents in Hollywood. And the one who wrote this stupid bit of publicity has the nerve to put his full name in upper left-hand corner of letter with street address, as though anyone cared.

If we didn't have compassion on this poor, misguided press agent, and fear his incarceration in some "bug" house, if he were identified, we'd publish his name. Any man or woman who has reached majority, is sane and has the bold effrontery to send such a piece of meaningless copy to a newspaper should be confined to everlasting torture.

The "giddy old flapper" is made to continue by "wise" press agent: "I thoroughly enjoy being the gay old lady. It gives me a real thrill out of life. I feel very giddy anyway, breaking into pictures at my age."

And then she is made to say by press agent's Corona: "But I really thought I ought to get busy if I intended getting into the movies before I got too far along in years." She's only 75.

Such brainless stupidity is framed in press agent copy going out of Hollywood every day of the year. And, the unfortunate thought in it all is, that some of our leading newspapers give such "bunk" perfectly good space in their so-called movie departments.

And the saddest blow of all is to think that that old woman, probably making her living "doing" pictures is, in all probability paying this press agent a weekly salary to publicize her.

"Wise" press agent goes on spilling forth on his Corona "a lot of words": "Netta likes 'flapper' parts best—even though they be grandmother flappers, which is the type of character she most prefers." Pray—tell us stupid press agent, what other kind of roles a woman 75 years old could portray? Why not try for place on Wampus "Baby Star" list for 1925.

Next to the "Yes Guy" in the motion picture field, the stupid press agent is the industry's worst enemy. Their copy is an insult to the public—and such copy as we quote from above is published daily in our papers, with the presumption hinted that if it be fit to publish it is fit to read.

And these press agents get paid for doing it. That's the inconceivable part of it all. Why any sane-minded person—even a "giddy old flapper" should pay a person to virtually libel her through the columns of the press, we can't understand.

And they love it—these screen artists. "Get our name in the paper"—that's their motto—"and picture if possible." It doesn't seem to make any difference in what connection the name or the picture reaches the pages of the press, so long as they do.

Probably the most widely publicized actor ever to tread an American stage and one of its greatest was Richard Mansfield and Mansfield's name seldom appeared in copy sent out by his press agent.

Mansfield was convinced that the very best kind of publicity is got by using the same formula electricians employ when they install indirect lighting system to give best light. Mansfield believed in subtlety in carrying his name to the theatrical public, by innuendo, by suggestion. Off times double-column stories would appear without a mention of Mansfield's name yet everyone knew the article concerned Mansfield.

Richard Mansfield didn't try to take honors as champion "flap-flap-flap flippers of flippers" as Conway Tearle, screen hero, has been known to do through his prolific press agent. Mansfield never had to resort to plain stupidity to get his name in the paper. When his name did appear it was linked with sensible reading.

Once upon a time Ye Ed degenerated into a press agent. We handed the publicity for James K. Hackett during his last appearance on the American stage in dramatized version of "The Rise of Silas Lapham" and his own production.

Before we were allowed to write a word about James K. Hackett, we were called to his home in the West Seventies off Central Park in New York and told to write facts, not bunk. Hackett told us he didn't care if we didn't get his name in paper once a month, but when we did he wanted us to say something—not to write a lot of words.

And James K. Hackett was no "ham" actor. He was matinee idol of the New York stage until old age forced him to bequeath his mantle to Jack Barrymore. He is considered one of America's greatest Shakespearean actors and was at one time the stage's greatest romantic actor.

Why can't some of these alleged actors take for example the policy followed by real actors. They can't or just won't—that's obvious from the bunk stories they subscribe their names to, appearing daily in our papers.

Around Xmas-time one of screen's best character women was quoted in interview on "what I would want if I could wish what I want" as saying: "I wish I could be surrounded by a lot of insects." She doesn't know, poor woman, how many she is surrounded by without even wishing.

SPORT CHATTER

By LES CONKLIN
For International News Service

A flitting perusal of baseball statistics reveals that many old-timers are holding their own with younger stars, if not excelling them. True, some of them are in the minors, but they are all up there swinging the old hickory with the well-known vim and vigor.

A striking example is Sherwood Magee, who as a Philly outfielder may back in Bill Taft's administration, spent many a long afternoon chasing long hits to the fences. Last season in the American Association Magee compiled the startling average of .316 in eighty-three games. Hats off to Grandpa!

Beals Becker and Otto Miller, ex-National Leaguers, also batted over .300 in the Association last year. Miller was a "kid" who broke in with Brooklyn when Magee and Becker were veterans.

The most valuable collection of antiques in the American league next season will be owned by Washington, Stan Coveleskie, Dutch Reuther, Van Grege and Walter Johnson, if he returns to the fold, will comprise a pitching staff resembling a G. A. R. chapter. And like fiddlers, they all seem to improve with age.

Success of Washington's Four Horsemen will prove the versatility of Manager Harris. He won one pennant with a staff of pitchers composed mostly of kids, and now he's going to win another with a gang of hurters almost old enough to be their daddies.

Foreign Soil Imports On Plant Roots, Issue

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Plans for co-operating with the federal horticultural board to prevent entrance into the United States of foreign soil or sand on the roots of imported nursery stock will be taken up by the American Association of Nurserymen in Rochester at its annual convention next June. In connection with the convention, the fiftieth anniversary of the association will be celebrated.

LEONARD LEAVES RING WITH TITLE

Lightweight Champion's Act
Follows Mother's Plea
Not to Fight

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, has quit the ring, he announced today, "because his mother had begged him not to fight again."

"I am retiring from boxing for the love of my mother," Leonard said. Leonard became lightweight champion in 1917 when he beat Freddie Welch. He has been one of the most popular champions of all time.

Announcement of Leonard's retirement from boxing will cause the holding of a lightweight championship elimination tournament to determine his successor, is the opinion expressed in boxing circles here.

Kid Kaplin, selected in such a manner to succeed Johnny Dundee, is recognized as champion here but many localities have not concurred.

Leonard's retirement leaves the field open to several of the leading contenders who include Sid Terris, New York; Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill.; Jack Bernstein, Yonkers, N. Y.; Tommy O'Brien, Milwaukee, and Jack Zivic, of Pittsburgh, although doubt is expressed whether the latter can make the weight.

John B. Foster, Jr.

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The minor leagues are not reconciled to the major leagues placing fifteen players each on option with minor clubs, as has been the case since 1921. The matter came up for discussion at the Hartford meeting, but secretary Farrell washed his hands of the matter by saying that Commissioner Landis had authorized it and that he, as secretary, was compelled to obey orders from the commissioner's office.

The minors went on record as insisting that eight players be the maximum placed on option, and they have not given up their fight to bring it about, despite the fact that it is evident the majors intend to head and place fifteen on option this year, as in the past.

A minor league authority brings attention to the fact that when Commissioner Landis took office it was agreed that the major leagues could make rules to govern them. But so far as the majors and minors were jointly concerned, their rules were to be made co-jointly, and no amendment could be made except by concurrent action.

It is claimed by the minors that under the rules which were adopted for the government of the majors and minors, the number of cases in which optional agreements may be made is limited to eight for each major club. It is also asserted, and not denied, that in every year since the agreement went into effect, one or more major clubs has sent out more than eight players under option and that the minors, by some process of their own, have amended the rule so that fifteen men might be placed on option.

In the official guide book that comes from the office of the commissioner, the rule about optional agreement is read: "The number of cases in which such optional agreements may be made is limited as follows: Eight players by each major league club."

Minor officials say that this still is the law of baseball and they want to know why it is not being lived up to. They are complaining that the fifteen player limit is placing so much of the available material in the hands of the majors that the minors are becoming mere training schools for major league players.

This, of course, is partly a contributory fault on the part of the minors, because if they declined to accept more than eight players from each major club on option there is no rule which could make them do so. This would leave on the hands of the majors more ball players than they could handle and they would be compelled to make the surplus free agents, subject to approach by the minors.

The majors have overcome this possibility to some extent by purchasing into minor league territory, or by forming such an alliance with certain minor clubs that they can get rid of the bulk of their men.

The importance of the matter is that the minors claim there is a scarcity of players, and blame the majors for it. And the complaint is general, from one ocean to the other.

FLYING FINN GETS TRIO OF RECORDS

Nurmi Wins All Three Races
In New York; Runs
Joie Ray Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—With three more world records salted away in the athletic liturgy, Paavo Nurmi today is speeding west to Chicago, where tonight, at the Illinois Athletic club, he will give Joie Ray one more chance to head him to the tape. The two great runners will meet in a special mile and three-quarters race, and from what it saw of Nurmi at the municipal games last night, New York is convinced that Ray is in for another beating.

Winning away off by himself, Nurmi established new records for a mile and three-quarters, 3000 meters and one mile and seven-eighths. He was caught at the first distance in 7:55 3-5, the second in 8:26 4-5 and the third in 8:29. The former records were the property of Ray himself. Nurmi ran quite without competition, Willie Ritola being beaten by seventy-five yards and Verne Booth, Ilmar Prim and Gunnar Nilsson being lapped. Hardly

Tris Speaker Gets Married At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16.—Tris Speaker, manager and center fielder of the Cleveland Indians, was on his way to Florida for his honeymoon today. The ballplayer, considered one of the most confirmed bachelors among professional ballplayers, was married late yesterday at St. John's cathedral house to Miss Mary Frances Cudaby, whom he first met in 1919. Speaker's age was given at 38; his bride is 30.

A two-way drive enables a motor truck designed for road construction to be driven equally well in any direction without turning around.

The newly perfected splinterless glass may be used for automobile windshields.

more than an hour later Nurmi was on a train for Chicago. He will return here tomorrow night to compete in a 2000-meter race at the Fordham games, completing an exacting schedule which calls for three races and the traveling of nearly 2000 miles within fifty-one hours.

ALHAMBRA WINS IN OPENING GAME

Local Lightweights Trimmed
23 to 14; Heavyweights
Play Here Today

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

Smashing Coach Howard L. Butterfield's hopes of lightweight basketball championship, the whirlwind Alhambra quintet pounced upon the locals yesterday in a fast game played at Alhambra and won, 23 to 14. The Moors had a team that is one of the best ever seen in the Central loop which it promised to clean up without any other strong opposition.

Doty, the Alhambra demon hoop shooter, scored most of the points for the winners. Although Doty was the star, he was assisted by flawless teamwork of his mates who played the ball to him for their scores. Teague and Hill, the two Alhambra guards, kept the local forwards from getting too near their wall.

Lovell, Harrison and Neel played a smooth game for Glendale, with Neel doing most of the registering of markers. Muff and Alvord tried hard at guards, but were unable to solve the snappy Moor combinations.

Local Tads Win
In the preliminary game between the Class C squads of the two schools, matters were evened as the local tads were victorious over the Moorlets, 14 to 13. "Peewee" Reed was the star for Glendale while Nye did some nice work for the losers. The game was hard fought all the way through, but the Firecrackers were on top most of the time and managed to finish that way.

The local casaba fans will be treated at home today when the heavyweight outfits of the two schools tangle in the local gymnasium at Harvard High. Although the Moors have a slight edge Coach "Apollo" Pierce's men are out for blood and are going in the game with no other thought in view save to bowl over the Moors. Jensen will tip off the ball as well as the signals to the Dynamiters, while Francis Hardesty and Bill Bradbury will start at forwards. Cecil Zava and Lewis Dotson will hold down the guard positions.

LIGHTNING BURNS
 Lightning struck in a peculiar way at Goshen, N. Y., not long ago. The bolt hit a wire clothes line and instantly, almost, burned out the wash that was hanging out to dry. The freak of nature trick occurred at the Green farm near Goshen.

OPTIMISTS HEAR BONDS EXPLAINED

Richardson D. White Speaks
 Before Club at Noon
 Luncheon Today

Richardson D. White, superintendent of Glendale city schools, explained the joint school board
 plans for the bond issue on February 10, to members of the Glendale Optimist club at their meeting at the Masonic temple today at noon. Mr. White declared that the voting of the bonds would be a sound business move and urged that Optimists support the issue.
 Henry H. Cantor gave a group of tenor solos in English, Italian and Spanish. He was accompanied by Howard E. Cavanaugh.
 Dr. H. R. Boyer presided over the meeting. Dick Michel had charge of the program.

The Glendale Optimists will entertain the Hollywood Optimist club next Friday at noon. A special program will be arranged by the joint clubs.

CHICKEN-CATCHING EEL
 Near Deposit, N. Y., farmers have been missing their chickens
 for many weeks and the marauder could not be apprehended regardless of how careful the watch. Recently S. D. Peters caught a fourpound eel and when it was dressed it was found to contain two young chickens which had been gulped down whole.

BETTER BUILT HOMES—Not Merely Houses

Plastering
 is an important item

When we supervise the construction of your home
 we make sure that the best plasterers are employed.
 The finest grade of plaster is none too good for Pacific Homes. A poor job of plastering can mar the appearance of an otherwise perfect home. We take equal caution in superintending the cement work and masonry.
 If you are seeking a careful, conscientious homebuilding service we believe we have the logical organization and our services cost you less.

Builds Block

JOHN B. TATE, head of the realty company which bears his name, started as a manufacturer in Kokomo, Ind.

Starting twenty-two years ago in the manufacturing business with no capital and drawing a salary that would not provide the ordinary business man of today with cigar money, the rise of John B. Tate, head of Tate Realty Co., 123 West Wilson avenue, has been rapid.

In December, 1902, Mr. Tate and J. E. Richardson formed a partnership in Kokomo, Indiana, under the name of National Mitten works, incorporating in three months with Mr. Tate as president and manager. He remained with the mitten works fifteen years and for four years was also a director and member of the dis- count board of the American Trust Co., Kokomo. Mr. Tate built and sold several Kokomo business blocks, among them being the South Kokomo bank building and the Markland hotel. As a real estate operator Mr. Tate has been as successful as he was in the manufacturing business as attested by his four years in the west. He built and owns the business block at Wilson avenue and Orange street.

VARIETY SHOW AT SCHOOL PLEASURES

Annual Frolic by Pupils Is Enjoyed by Audience;
Repeat Tonight

One of the most diversified entertainments ever held at the Broadway High school auditorium was given last night by the students of the Glendale Union High school on the occasion of their annual Variety Show.

The program opened with a well staged and costumed excerpt from the light opera, "The Mikado," with the following characters:

The Mikado of Japan, Arthur Cornelius; Nanki Poo (his son, disguised as a wandering minstrel in love with Yum Yum), Craig Leitch; Ko-Ko (Lord High Executioner), Donald Dietrich; Pooch Bah (Lord High Everything), Archie Neel; Pish Tush (A Noble Lord), Joyce Farr; Yum Yum (First Night), Mabel Todd; (Second Night), Doris Barnett; Katsi-sha, an elderly lady in love with Nanki Poo, Marjory Hart; Pitti Sing, Betty Mabrey. The accompanist was Lucile Beach.

The balance of the program included music, dancing, short dramatic playlets and burlesque, all most admirably produced, including:

Doll Dance, Marcia Cleveland; Fashion Show, Football Squad; "When Frances Dances With Me," Laurella Sutton, accompanied by Lillian and Beatrice Sutton.

"A Little Fowl Play," by Harold Owen, directed by Harold L. Brewster. Cast—Gilbert Wayne, an author, Wesley Pomeroy; Sibyl Wayne, his wife, Velma Bolton; Mary, the maid, Marie Griggs; the Butcher's Boy, Jack Alvord; Mr. Tolbooth, a neighbor, Dixon Fannon; "An Old Fashioned Girl in Old Fashioned Songs," Elly Christainson.

"The Radio, Here and There," presented by the Freshman class, Harvard High school. Time—Any night about 8 o'clock; scene one, "Here"—A modern home; scene two, "There"—K.H.J. The Times studio. Characters—Father, Paul Mondler; mother, Fannie Rodgers; children, Carl Siebold, Dorothy Page, Jean Williams; Uncle John, George Hall; Queen Titania, Marguerite Anderson; Uncle Remus, Robert Burns; Calmon Luboviski, Chas. Henry; Maurice Stollhoff, Lester Abarta; Sol Cohen, Chas. Millikin; Claire Forbes Crane, Marguerite Chappel; Dr. Mars. Baumgardt, Ewart Cornwell; Mary Newkirk, Bower; Doris Carver; Gladys Blackwell Pickering, Doris Cole; Little Rastus, Ernest Buchanan; Brown Brothers' Saxophone Quartette, Chas. Cronkite, Clarence Talbot, Jack Dresser, Edward Reese. Visitors and friends, Assisted by the Harvard High school orchestra.

"Tell Me Pretty Maiden," from Florodora (Stuart)—Alice Hill, Phyllis Kuchny, Marion Lerchen, Lynette Hezmalhalch, Ruth Ray, Ralph Eckles, Harold Begg, Robert Murphy, Wesley Pomeroy, Bob Rogers. Accompanist, Erma Lucas.

"The Highwayman," by the Junior class, in order of their appearance—Loeta Bannister, Reader; Ward Foulitz, Highwayman; James Sargent, Horse; Walton

"Don't touch me—you killed my mother," her slim-legged, serious-faced brother, Earl, shouted as she sought to throw herself in his arms.

"Go away—don't you know I can't talk to you. Why do you come to me like this" came from her taut lips in bitter tones.

They turned and left and slowly her smile returned and again she was "the life of the party."
